Highlights

Endless

Entertainment: Snowy mountain ranges, sandy beaches, and vast expanses of farmland — there's an often untold beauty of New Jersey. And there's also easy access to exciting major urban areas. After all, it's the only state where you're just an hour's drive from beaches, mountains and ski resorts, the Jersey Shore, and one of the greatest vacation destinations in the world, New York City. With entertainment options rivaling those of nearby NYC, as well as close proximity to historical Philadelphia, it's hard not to love New Jersey for all there is to do. Concerts, coffee houses, or the attractions of Atlantic City... it's all here in world-class style.

Beaches: The sandy shores of NJ are some of the top vacation destinations in the country, with people spending tens of thousands of dollars to rent beach houses for a few weeks or even the whole summer, every year. Retiring to a NJ retirement community means you won't have to go far to enjoy them, even as others travel great distances (and in great parking lots of traffic). 130 miles of coastline dotted with sandy beaches and cute little beach towns. You'll have fun exploring them all, right down to the crown jewel at the southern tip of the state: Cape May. From Sandy Hook to Cape May, each has its own unique charm. Saltwater taffy, endless miles of boardwalk, and a hometown vibe are just some of the reasons the New Jersey Shore is a national treasure.

History: Once you see all there is to explore, you'll know why historians call New Jersey the "Crossroads of the American Revolution." And did you know NJ is home to a historic zinc mine? Visit the Sterling Hill Mining Museum and explore one of the oldest mines in the United States. Battlefields, mines, lighthouses, historic villages - it's all here, dating all the way back to the birth of our nation.

New Jersey Retirement Benefits

From full-service gas stations, to easy access to great shopping everywhere, and some of the nation's top hospitals, New Jersey offers retirees a bountiful smorgasbord of great opportunities for living the good life.

And speaking of the good life, no other state can boast a restaurant scene that's quite like this. If you're a foodie, this is where you want to be.

Here are a few more compelling, practical reasons why seniors choose NJ retirement homes.

So Many Reasons to Love New Jersey Retirement

Tax friendliness: New Jersey won't tax your Social Security benefits. In addition, you'll pay low state income taxes if your income from retirement accounts is under $65,000.

An incredible library system: New Jersey's libraries see more annual visits than the Magic Kingdom. It's a vibrant network where retirees can get to know their community in all sorts of meaningful ways.

A-ratings on crime and safety: With crime rates far below the national averages and falling, New Jersey is among the nation's safest place to retire.

Veteran-friendly: New Jersey provides benefits in several forms to those who have served their country in the military. Military pensions aren't taxed and there's a Veteran's Property Tax Deduction as well as other important benefits.
